

Project REDEMPTION

'Sharing hope in the French Speaking World'

To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Acts 26: 18

Dear Friends,

February, 2015

Psalms 37:4 "Delight thyself also in the Lord: and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart."

It has been a great year so far. God has shown me new ways that He loves his children and has opened new doors for me to serve. When I was young, my church's motto was "To know Him more, and to help more know Him." That motto has been with me throughout my life encouraging and reminding me of my duty to the One who saved my soul.

I'm currently serving at IBJM (the International Board of Jewish Missions) where I've been helping with the French Language Schools over the last couple of years. One of the missionary wives who works in the office is going out for double knee replacement and I will be taking her place while she is in recovery. Right now, I am being trained to template prayer letters, answer phones, and do a bunch of other things that will need to be done while she is away. In addition to that, I will be helping to host the annual 'Holocaust Education Day' and other smaller events. Since the office will soon be moving to another building, we're getting everything together for the move once the other building is ready.

IBJM is reaching Jewish people worldwide, including in France which has the third largest Jewish population in the world. Several IBJM missionaries are working hard in France to get the true gospel to these souls. It was an honor to personally meet each of them in France over the last few years. These families have a burden for souls, and for the Jewish people in particular.

God is working in me and through me, to be a set of helping hands for His servants and I couldn't ask Him for anything more. I covet your prayers for the mission field of France and for those who are working in the harvest there.

My return to France is in June to work at Camp Rainbow. I am already praying for the young people and the workers that will be present throughout the summer. Please pray with me that God will do mighty works in the lives of these people. May God bless you and put a song in your heart!

In Christ,

Rachel Gostlin
